TRINIDAD, Colo., Jan. 4.—An effort is now under way by the Western Federation of Miners to have a general strike called throughout the United States. The labor situation both in Colorado as well as Michigan has reached an acute stage and took a serious turn here today with the deportation of Mother Mary Jones, the well known prominent labor leader, who has been here during the labor trouble. The action was taken by the military authorities. The latter announce that if the woman returns she will be promptly arrested.

The strikers here are incensed at the deportation of Mother Jones, who is now at Denver, pleading with her to return.

The Governor of Colorado has ordered a company of infantry to proceed to the northern portion of the state, where the excitement is momentarily increasing.

Vice-President Mahoney, of the Western Federation of Miners, who has been in charge of the situation since the deportation and founding of President Moyer, leaves today for Chicago to consult with Moyer regarding the feasibility of calling a general strike throughout the United States.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—William Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, in a statement issued here tonight, announced that in the event that Commissioner Ferris would publish the findings of his investigations of the strike situation in the Calumet district and the causes which led up to one of the longest lockouts in the history of the copper industry of Michigan that the Western Federation of Miners is ready to yield and order its members to return to work, providing the report declares that the strike of the miners was called without justification. Moyer added further interest to the situation by announcing that he intends to return to Calumet tomorrow. He says he was forcefully told when ordered to leave Calumet not to return.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—Difficulties were added to the unemployed situation here today when it developed that there is a row among the factions of the unfortunates whom the city is striving to aid. The ranks of the idle are split, the members of the Industrial Workers of the World leading in the revolt. Free eating houses have been temporarily established. The I. W. W. members have declared a boycott on these places and are refusing to accept food being offered.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 4.—Dr. S. Weir Mitchell of this place, physician and author of note, died at his home here tonight. Influenza was the cause. He had been ill but a short time, and though everything possible was done to check the malady which caught him with such force, he grew worse rapidly until the last.

Doctor Mitchell was quite well known in Honolulu. He passed through here on the steamer China, June 16, 1901, on his way home from a trip around the world in quest of information to be used in literary work which he afterward published.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Wireless messages received from the steamer Manuel Calvo, plying between New Orleans and Cuba, tonight announce that it had picked up a disabled tank steamer during a storm, but before aid could be sent to the crew the tow broke and the crippled boat sank. It carried a crew of 25.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 4.—The storm which has been raging along the north and south Pacific coast for the past week broke here in all its fury today, doing much damage, but so far, it is believed, has not been accompanied by loss of life. Shipping is tied up, many vessels putting to sea along the coast to weather the gale. Many break buildings have been demolished.

The storm broke yesterday morning and continued through last night. It is accompanied by rain and hail and snow in some sections.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—Lincoln Beachey, the aviator, in an exhibition viewed here by thousands today, performed a series of death-defying maneuvers in his machine which held the spectators breathless. Volplaning, riding upside down and other feats seemed nothing. Just before the close of the exhibition he looped the loop seven times in succession as he glided down from a great altitude to within a very short distance from the ground, when he glided gracefully to a safe landing.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 4.—Announcement was made here today that President Wilson's policy remains unchanged as a result of his conference with Special Envoy Lind at Pass Christian last week.

This announcement has been received with disappointment by foreigners now here. Many Mexican officials, however, have expressed their gratification over the result.

The financial situation remains acute.

PRESIDIO, Tex., Jan. 4.—After hours of cannonading, the federal and Ojinaga today charged the main rebel position, losing 60 killed, but capturing a number of strategic points. The principal positions of the rebels, however, remain practically unchanged.

It is now believed that the federalists, realizing the futility of further resistance, are planning to cut their way out of the rebel lines which surround them, thinking only of saving their lives and leaving their large guns and provisions behind. It is the larger guns that have proved of great value to the federalists in resisting the desperate attacks of the rebels since the fighting began here New Year's morning.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 4.—Pausing in the midst of a semi-religious speech here tonight, Secretary of State Bryan took occasion to toast "Peace."

It was a dramatic moment when Bryan stepped forward on the platform, right hand raised, his eyes uplifted.

"I pray God," he said, "that He may help me make it unnecessary that this government shall go to war with Mexico."

The hall in which Bryan spoke was crowded to capacity. His remarks, coming so soon after the conference of Envoy Lind with President Wilson and the growing acuteness of the situation in Mexico, was looked upon as of serious import.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4.—Only 70 days more to the practical opening of the Panama canal.

That is the promise made here yesterday by a prominent Panama canal official, recently from the isthmus. Within that time, he stated yesterday, ships would be passed through the canal and across the isthmus from one ocean to the other.

The only remaining obstacle in the way of using the canal at this time, he announced, is the debris from the slides in the Culebra cut and this is now being rapidly removed and the channel from end to end of the canal will be clear for traffic.

ROME, Italy, Jan. 4.—Someone who conceived that he was a joker circulated the rumor yesterday that his holiness, Pope Pius X, was dead. There was no foundation in the story, although for a time it caused consternation.

GULFPORT, Miss., Jan. 4.—Special Envoy Lind sailed away from here today upon the revenue cutter Chester, bound for Vera Cruz, it is presumed, after his secret consultations with President Wilson on board the vessel. Mr. Lind did not set foot on shore during his stay in port and it is supposed that the president desired to shield his envoy from newspaper correspondents.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Reports of action taken by the locals of the Socialist party, compiled here yesterday, show that there is an overwhelming vote in favor of the party naming its national candidates, including the president of the United States, by a referendum vote in 1916, instead of in convention, as has been the practice.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Sylvia Pankhurst, daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, and herself a "martyr" to the cause, was rearrested here yesterday under the cat-and-mouse act.

Miss Sylvia has disagreed with her mother's methods of conducting the militant campaign for "votes for women." It was reported recently, and has affiliated herself with the work of the labor party in the east end.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—Attorney Preston, a candidate for the position upon the resignation of United States District Attorney McNab, became United States district attorney yesterday and was installed in office.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4.—Since beef was placed on the free list the importation of this commodity during October and November into the United States aggregated 18,000,000 pounds. This is three times the amount which was imported by the country during the whole of the year 1912.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The special investigators of the attorney-general's department, who have been looking into the charges that there is a cold storage combination to keep up prices, have reported that they are confident they have sufficient material evidence to prosecute the trust under the Sherman anti-trust law.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—With the going into effect of the new workmen's compensation law, there was a great rush by employers to insure under the state act. Employers of labor in practically all trades here filed their statistics and made application for the benefits under the Boynton law.

COPPERFIELD, Ore., Jan. 4.—Colonel West, the agent here for Governor Weston and in charge of the latter's campaign to close every saloon in this city, yesterday filed the injunction secured against him for keeping the saloons closed and will seek to enforce the mandates of the governor. Declaring that he will keep the saloons closed in spite of the injunction, which would prevent him from interfering with licensed saloons, Colonel Lawson yesterday telegraphed to Governor West for militia reinforcements to carry out this campaign.

Sheriff Edward Rand, who had been ordered recently by the governor to close all saloons, telegraphed back that he would do so if the governor would quote what law he would act under in doing so, but refused to interfere with them on the ground that the district attorney had advised him there was no law on the statute books enabling him to act. It was in response to this refusal by the sheriff that Governor West sent Colonel Lawson to this city.
